

POST-DOCTORAL SCHOLAR FOR 2012-13

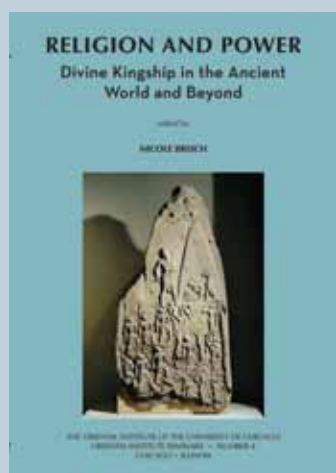

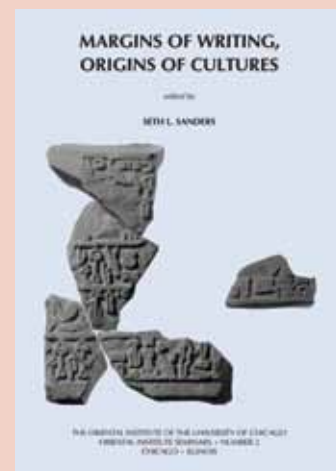

THE ORIENTAL INSTITUTE, UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO

The Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago invites applications for the Oriental Institute's Annual Post-Doctoral Scholar Conference program for the 2012-2013 academic year. The Post-Doctoral Scholar will organize and conduct a two-day seminar at the Oriental Institute on key comparatively oriented theoretical or methodological issues in the field of ancient Near Eastern studies (archaeological, text-based, art-historical). Inter-disciplinary and comparative proposals that involve the ancient Near East (including Egypt) are encouraged. Applicants should take into consideration the research interests of the Oriental Institute.

- Twelve-month, non-renewable appointment
- Seminar held in early to mid-March 2013
- Assemble and edit proceedings for publication
- Pursue own research interests while in residence
- Interact with Oriental Institute community

Information on past Oriental Institute annual seminars can be viewed at: <http://oi.uchicago.edu/research/symposia/>

QUALIFICATIONS: PhD in a discipline relating to ancient studies must be complete at the time of appointment. Applicants should send:

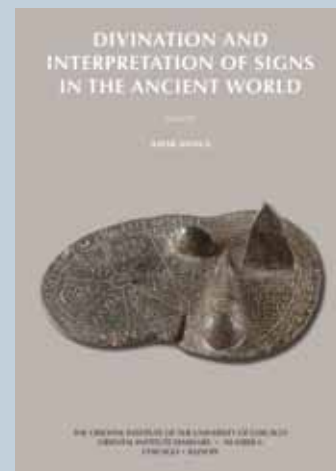

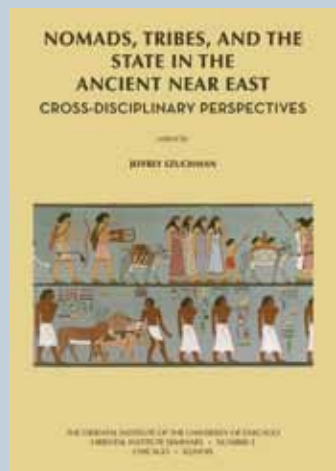

- Five-page proposal outlining nature and structure of conference (including names and paper topics of six to eight key participants who have agreed to make presentations, should the conference be funded)
- Curriculum vitae
- Three letters of reference (these may be sent under separate cover)

Electronic submissions are welcome.

Deadline for completed applications is Friday, January 13, 2012.
Start date is September 1, 2012.
