

DEVELOPMENT

WALLY VERDOOREN,† MATTHEW WELTON, POLINA KASIAN, AND ALI MALLET

---

The OI's development and membership team oversees and manages all activities related to philanthropic support, membership programming, and special events. These three interrelated and collaborative areas of activity work together to build and integrate a more strategic and effective approach to attracting, sustaining, expanding, and strengthening a base of partners and supporters committed to advancing the OI's mission and goals. Our team comprises Wally Verdooren, director of development; Matt Welton, associate director of membership programming, marketing, and communications; Polina Kasian, assistant director of development and events; and Ali Mallett, digital marketing and member engagement manager.

It is important to note that the past fiscal year (spanning July 1, 2020, through June 30, 2021) was extremely affected by the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic and social crisis, which resulted in severe health and economic challenges on local and worldwide levels. This crisis created great financial stress for almost every business corporation, educational institution, and nonprofit organization, certainly including the OI. While this section of The Oriental Institute Annual Report 2020-21 will once again conclude with the honor roll of donors and members, we want to recognize and thank our many partners and supporters also at the start of this report for providing, renewing, and often increasing their annual philanthropic contributions during this very difficult year. Now more than ever, the OI's research pursuits and educational programs would not be possible without your steadfast financial commitment to our mission.

The OI's development team works across the organization with senior administrative leaders, faculty, researchers, program staff, Advisory Council members, and other volunteers, as well as with colleagues in the University of Chicago's alumni relations and development office to advance the important philanthropic, membership, and community-engagement efforts of the OI.

PHILANTHROPIC SUPPORT

Throughout the preceding fiscal year, the OI's many members and partners generously supported our mission to heighten the scholarly understanding of the ancient Middle East through research initiatives, cultural preservation efforts, educational programming, and the OI Museum and its collections. Contributions from the Advisory Council, annual members, volunteers, and other donors continue to maintain and strengthen the OI's standing as the world's leading center for scholarship on the ancient Middle East.

The chart below provides a comparison summary of fundraising results in key giving categories over the last two fiscal years, and all the categories of philanthropic revenue represented in these figures are making the OI's important work possible.

DEVELOPMENT | PHILANTHROPIC SUPPORT

Fundraising Giving Categories	FY 2019–20 $ Amounts	FY 2020–21 $ Amounts
Fund Raising Progress (FRP)*	$6,609,596	$1,506,263
Expendable Cash	$2,061,327	$1,349,249
Realized Bequests	$291,173	$209,931
Payments on Multi-Year Pledges	$1,392,960	$1,624,908
New Pledge Commitments	$4,006,170	$155,685
New Deferred Gifts and Documented Bequests	$1,297,000	$200,000

* FRP is the total combined dollar amount of all new gifts, memberships, multiyear pledges, and documented estate commitments received during the fiscal year.

All these philanthropic achievements during the 2020–21 program year provided the OI with essential resources for continued scholarly and programmatic growth, and this growth is only possible through the ongoing commitment and support of the OI's many members and partners.

MEMBERSHIP PROGRAMMING

Though the global pandemic has made an impact on in-person events and OI Museum visits, our dedicated members remained by our side. Eager to engage with the scholarship of the ancient Middle East from the comfort of their homes, OI members met the challenges of the pandemic by utilizing new avenues to dig deeper into our shared ancient past. Membership retention remained steady, with an impressive increase in new-member acquisition, largely due to the increase and global reach of our online programming. We are excited to report that our membership base continues to grow, with many new members joining us from distant states and countries. We welcome each one of these new members into a community of explorers and supporters, and we look forward to continuing our efforts in online engagement.

Thanks to the support of our members, our free, monthly lecture series continued through the pandemic with minimal disruption. Unable to host our lectures in person, we transitioned our Members' Lectures online through our OI YouTube channel. Reach and viewership of these lectures increased impressively. As a perk of transitioning our lectures online, we were able to invite speakers who would not normally be able to travel to the U.S. due to prior commitments and passport and travel restrictions. While we hope to return to in-person lectures for the 2021–22 Members' Lectures season, we will continue to livestream and post them on our YouTube channel so that all our members outside the greater Chicago area have the opportunity to choose to watch at home as each lecture occurs or later, at their convenience. Members of the Breasted Society, the OI's exclusive upper-tier membership level, enjoyed a continuation of our virtual online Salon series, including a live presentation and conversation with our new interim director, Theo van den Hout.

Our members-sponsored podcast series and OI Workshop series continued to grow and foster engagement online during this past fiscal year. The OI welcomed guest scholars for podcast series on ancient Egyptian religious practices and the use of ancient works and themes in contemporary arts. In addition to our continuing podcast series, we also presented workshops exploring several aspects of ancient languages and a number of Armchair Traveler episodes that allowed our members and patrons to travel the word virtually with OI faculty and tour leaders as their online guides. Though

COVID-19 travel restrictions put a pause to our OI Member's Travel program, we hope to return this spring with a rescheduled tour of Greece and Turkey.

In addition to our online video programming, the OI continues to engage with our members and with prospective members and patrons at large through our social media outlets. Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram have provided us with forums to present thematic exploration that has grown engagement daily.

We are pleased to announce that in 2021 the OI was the recipient of the Best in Class Digital Programming Award from the University of Chicago. This award is a testament to our dedicated staff, who have met the pandemic with new and exciting ways of engaging with the world online by bringing the OI directly into our patrons' homes. This award, and the programming it celebrates, would not be possible without the financial support of our membership base. To explore our online programming for members, please visit the OI YouTube channel at: <https://www.youtube.com/c/TheOrientalInstitute>. Make sure to click Subscribe and Like for up-to-date video notification.

The University's office restrictions in 2020–21 year hampered our ability to print and mail copies of News & Notes, our quarterly members' magazine. Switching to a temporary virtual format, over the year we published three virtual issues that provided our members with an in-depth look at the history of News & Notes, the OI's work on the Hittite dictionary, and insight into ancient pandemics. We will return to printed and mailed copies of News & Notes starting in fall 2021, with a proposed schedule of three printed issues and one virtual issue each year.

During this historic year, the OI remains thankful for each of our new and renewing members. We are grateful that our membership base has remained with us, and we look forward to bringing the work and history of the OI to our new and growing international base. The continued investment and advocacy of our members allows us to further our scholarship and research and helps us share the work of the OI in new and exciting ways. Thank you for your support.

HONOR ROLL OF DONORS AND MEMBERS

The Oriental Institute gratefully recognizes the many supporters who have furthered the mission and impact of the OI with a new gift, documented pledge, or documented estate commitment of $100 or more during fiscal year 2020–21 (spanning July 1, 2020, to June 30, 2021). The following pages list the many members, partners, and contributors whose support helps ensure and inspire excellence at the OI. We celebrate your commitment and are pleased to recognize publicly the impact of your generosity on the OI and our community. The OI's ongoing research and discovery would not be possible without your financial investment in our work.
