

ROBERT BIGGS continued his work on third millennium cuneiform texts, which included a lengthy article on Ebla texts for the Anchor Bible Dictionary. For the Reallexikon der Assyriologie he completed an article on medicine in ancient Mesopotamia. In connection with his interest in medicine, he became a contributing editor for the Newsletter of the Society for Ancient Medicine and Pharmacy, providing bibliography and commentary on publications on medicine in ancient Western Asia. Several articles by Biggs appeared in volumes honoring colleagues.
